The award-winning Engino System is one of the most advanced and versatile construction systems available. The 60 Models Set features Engino's basic 18 multi-functional components and contains 221 parts (1,363 connecting points). Engino's parts have a patented ability to snap and lock simultaneously at multiple locations and in multiple directions. Such versatility allows for the construction of very complex models using very few parts, which makes the set ideal for intermediate to advanced users.
